Panelists:

- Ross Spencer, Artefactual
- Adam Farquhar, OPF founder
- Jacqueline Slats, National Archives of the Netherlands

How do you think the digital preservation landscape has changed
in the last ten years?

What did you see as the Foundation's vision when it was first established?

How far do you think it has come towards achieving that?

Has this vision changed?

How has OPF contributed to the international digital preservation community?

Where would this community be without OPF?
